

Suggestion 5: TeamCreative – The giant picture

Make connections between all participants on your day of the event - with self-painted giant pictures.

Strong messages will be expressed through brushes and colours. Ideas will be sparked and exchanged, a lively scenario will originate and there will be lots of laughter and in the end everyone will be amazed by their masterpiece.

Activity:

Participants paint in small teams on canvases that will at the end be put together to form an impressive giant picture. Thereby they will communicate and cooperate on different levels. The single pictures will point out different elements. The composite work will grow step by step.

For this no professional artist is required – it is based on spontaneous ideas and the cooperation of all participants.

It is a good way to communicate your company's message. After the completion of the giant picture distinctive letters will appear.

The motivation of all participants will be enhanced if the artwork will be displayed at the company's offices to be admired by all.
