

Suggestion 3: TeamProject – Great creative machine engineering

Fresh energy, laughter, interaction with inspiration and a creative art project as an additional benefit for your event.

Within a short period of time the conference room will be transformed into a creative workshop. Let's start and follow in the footsteps of Leonardo da Vinci.

- ✓ Many participants are in action at the same time
- ✓ Ideas will pop up, plans will be made and first constructions rise in the air
- ✓ Team spirit, cooperation and ideas experienced live
- ✓ Innovative details and impressive effects
- ✓ Everything is on the move, flows into each other and leads to success

The construction can if requested symbolise a connection to your company. It could for example create a global production process, the dynamic circle of the company values or the international integration of the different company departments. Alternatively the teams can get a innovative name and have to present those in a funny way in the machinery.

As the result the team will have created an impressive creative piece of art that will be admired at the dramatic finish. Many astonished participants, who will not yet believe what they have created together in simply 2 or 3 hours.

A strong emotional souvenir for your event.
